Dear Friends,

I'm so excited to introduce our awesome Dog Man décor. Don't know Dog Man yet? Ask any kid! Dav Pilkey's #1 New York Times best-selling series has inspired legions of devoted young fans. Teachers love it for its positive messages that support social-emotional learning. Kid appeal + teacher approval? This one is a winner!

I'm also thrilled to share our 70 new products, including our Gratitude Planner, Decodable Cards, and extensions of our best-selling First Little Readers and Buddy Readers. They're the perfect products to support instruction.

Warmly,

Tara Welty

Guided Reading Components
Component	Description	Benefit to Students
Sight Word Review (optional after Level 2)	• Students write three high-frequency words they have been learning.	• Builds a sight word vocabulary, which increases reading and writing fluency.
Book Introduction	• The teacher introduces new or unusual words and language structures.	• Applies decoding skills to problem- solve challenging words and construct meaning.
Read With Prompting	• Each student reads the book independently while the teacher provides on-the-spot, targeted instruction to strengthen his or her processing system.	• Monitors and applies known skills to solve unknown words, and thereby increase fluency and phrasing.
Discuss the Text	• The teacher engages students in a conversation about the text to enhance and extend comprehension.	• Practices using new vocabulary.
Follow-Up Teaching Points	• The teacher demonstrates a word-solving action based on student processing needs.	• Develops strategic actions for decoding unfamiliar words.
Word Study	• The teacher selects a new sight word to teach (optional after Level 2). • The teacher then provides students with a short, hands-on word study lesson based on the student needs.	• Builds a core of known words. • Develops a system for remembering words. • Learns developmentally appropriate skills to use in decoding and encoding new words. • Expands vocabulary strategies by analyzing unfamiliar words with affixes.
Guided Writing	• Students write about the text with teacher support. The teacher may provide instruction in constructing new words by using Sound Boxes, Breaking Words, and analogies.	• Applies skills that have been taught— hearing and recording sounds, using onsets and rimes to write new words, adding inflectional endings, and writing multisyllabic words.

Quick & Easy Strategies for Close Reading and Writing

SANDRA K. ATHANS

To respond effectively to a text—a common task in standardized tests—students have to merge their reading and writing skills. Response writing requires a different set of strategies that involve close reading and writing. This book offers practical strategies for teaching students how to read and analyze text closely and combine ideas gleaned from their reading with their own original thinking to respond to the text. Includes nonfiction and fiction anchor texts, writing scaffolds, and more.

Cultivating Genius

GHOLDY MUHAMMAD

The four-layered framework— identity, skill development, intellectualism and criticality— is essential for all youth in classrooms, especially youth of color, who traditionally have been marginalized in learning standards, policies, and school practices. Readers will learn how to redesign their learning goals, lesson plans, and the texts they use to teach. The framework offers an unique and breakthrough blend of multiple pedagogical approaches including cognitive, sociocultural, and critical and sociohistorical theories.

Rime Magic: Phonics-Powered Prevention and Intervention for All Students

SHARON ZINKE

With Rime Magic, teachers carry out instruction using various sets of cards and lessons. The cards contain onsets and rimes that students identify, analyze, and combine into words—like magic! The onset and rime lessons help students “crack the code” of the written word and, when used repeatedly, bolster reading proficiency. Over time, word recognition becomes more automatic, leading to enhanced comprehension and fluency. Each kit contains:

- Teacher’s Guide
- Embedded Rime Cards (three sets—175 cards in total)
- Magic Rime Cards (two sets—total of 60 cards)
- Power Pak Cards (one set—450 cards representing 30 key rimes with 15 rime-embedded words each for intervention work)
- Endings and Short Vowel Cards
- 2 Poem Cards
- Three trade books: What Bears Like, Frog and Toad Are Friends, and Fables
- Card Holder
- Sturdy Storage box
- Additional resources online, including Rime Word Spelling Activity Sheet, Base Word Constancy Activity Sheet, Long Vowel Spelling Activity Sheet, and a Word Juggling Sheet

Quick & Easy Strategies for Close Reading and Writing

SANDRA K. ATHANS

To respond effectively to a text—a common task in standardized tests—students have to merge their reading and writing skills. Response writing requires a different set of strategies that involve close reading and writing. This book offers practical strategies for teaching students how to read and analyze text closely and combine ideas gleaned from their reading with their own original thinking to respond to the text. Includes nonfiction and fiction anchor texts, writing scaffolds, and more.
